

MORE BADGERING

BY THE SENATE OBSTRUCTIONISTS.

Another Day Spent in Fruitless Debate and Balloting—Democratic Flings at the Republican Senator from Virginia and Mr. Riddleberger—An Adjournment.

When the Senate met yesterday Mr. Tappan offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for a list of all appointments, other than those in the army, made in his Department from the 1st of December, 1879, to March 4, 1881, and that provisions of law said appointments, and whether the same have been made, and if so, whether the appointments in said Department, laid on the table for future action.

Mr. Davis called up the resolution for the consideration of the Senate, and the yeas and nays were taken, and the resolution was passed.

Mr. Johnson, alluding to the remark made yesterday by Mr. Hoar to the effect that the President of the Senate is a man who is not a member of the Senate, suggested that some Eastern editor should confer on that gentleman the degrees of which Mr. Douglas was so proud—LL. D. and S. S. C. [Laughter.] The Republican party and the Southern States by declarations that they had no objection to the President of the Senate, and that the only way to strangle the doctrine of republicanism was to keep the North from the Republican party in caucus nominating one of the highest officers of the Senate a Democrat and a Republicanist—a man who would be a party leader for the prominence given him by his Republican friends.

Mr. Johnson said that the Senator from Ohio (Mr. Sherman), who had so built up the credit of the United States, would vote for Mr. Riddleberger.
